Testing Strength of
STEAMSHIP TERMINAL.
Concrete Units at New London Pier Subjected to Great Weight.

The great state steamship terminal at East New London, now in a state of partial completion, is receiving its first practical test. The west bulkhead has been entirely covered with the reinforced concrete units which will constitute the surface of the pier and upon it are being unloaded cargoes of sand and crushed stone that arrive by water.
Huge piles ten feet in height indicate the surface of the pier and upon it are coming in lighters from Long Island and the crushed stone by similar conveyance from the New Haven Trap Rock company.

These shipments are utilized in making more concrete units, the construction and laying of which are now being rushed. Nearly 150 are now in place. Other details of the terminal construction are going along satisfactorily. It had been hoped to hold a meeting of the commission before this but it was found necessary to defer because of the demands on Governor Holcomb's time made by the general assembly. Now that its session is over a meeting will probably be held shortly. One of the matters to be taken up is the building of a superstructure, consisting of warehouses, sheds and offices.

Church Federation Council.
Ten churches were represented at the meeting of the council of the Federation of Churches held at the Broadway Congregational church on Tuesday evening. D. A. Prentice, the president, occupied the chair, and the following committees were appointed to report on various matters at the annual meeting to be held in October:

Nominating Committee for Election of Officers—Rev. J. F. Cobb, Amos A.
Brown and P. P. Palmer.
Committee for Possible Canvasses for Religious Statistics—Archdeacon J.
Eldred Brown, Rev. J. B. Slocum, D.

JAIL SENTENCE FOR RICCARDINO

Norwich Man Found Guilty on Forgery Charge—Must Serve Three Months—Mary Perone on Probation Under Suspended Sentence—May Term of Supreme Court Was Adjourned Thursday.

Ralph Riccardino, alias James Peter, of this city was found guilty of the charge of forgery by the jury in the criminal superior court in New London on Thursday morning. He was sentenced to three months in jail.
Sentence was pronounced immediately after the return of the jury.

Riccardino has been on trial since Tuesday morning charged with forging and uttering a check for $17.50 on the United National bank of Norwich and forging the name of Lewis Shapiro of Norwich.

When court came in Thursday morning State Attorney Hall finished the closing argument which he was making when court adjourned Wednesday afternoon. He argued until 10:55 when Judge Shumway charged the jury occupying until 11:15. The jury deliberated about 45 minutes and then returned with the verdict of guilty.

State Attorney Hall moved for a sentence immediately and Riccardino was sentenced to spend three months in the county jail.

Riccardino's defence was an alibi and detail on the ground that he could neither read nor write English and therefore could not have forged the check. The state did not claim that he actually forged the check but that he was at least an accessory.

Mary Perone of this city, charged with adultery with Angelo Covello of this city, was sentenced to three months in jail and placed on probation.

HAS HIS STUDIO
MOVED ABOUT BY OXEN

One of the curiosities at the Painters' Colony at Lyme.

One of the curiosities of the painters' colony at Lyme is a perambulating studio. It belongs to Henry R. Poore, of East Orange, N. J., whose canvas, Pilgrim Snobs, painted from the traveling showman, was shown at the recent Academy exhibition.

The studio resembles a house on a stoneboat. It is drawn from place to place by yoke of oxen, which gives the outfit the primitive New England flavor. Mr. Poore paints winter scenes in the cozy protection afforded by his traveling studio and, as the oxen are familiar with the rigors of New England winters are aware of the warmth and comfort of four walls, fur rugs and a blue flame oil stove are not to be despised.

Mr. Poore is addicted to traveling studios. As far back as 1890 he had one which he operated in the picturesque country in the vicinity of Philadelphia. This one was constructed on wheels and was easily drawn by a single horse in the shafts. It was beautified with a number of pictures and a small oil stove.

While it lasted it was my studio coach," explained Mr. Poore, "but after a season in the open the glory of its brilliance had departed and it received the more fitting sobriquet of the Black Maria. It had a window on each of the four sides and was sufficiently high to stand in comfortably. It was heated by a small oil stove.

"I was able to drive this studio over the fields, and while I found it an admirable device for the painting of distance middle ground and foreground, it was not so satisfactory for the painting of a precipitous view in the foreground. So I sold the Black Maria to a peddler and turned my attention to building another studio. After my experience I knew just how the next one should be built.

"I wished to paint the wonderfully picturesque country about Lyme, where for the past 15 years I have had a studio. In making plans for the second movable studio I decided to set it as low as possible in order to avoid the steep pitch of the first. The new studio was built on wheels and was small enough to insure this I used runners.
To drag this studio over the ground, though frozen, required two yoked oxen, but with their assistance no hilltop of crag was inaccessible. I found that oxen were better than horses for this service, being more sure-footed, imaginative, feared no consequences when he was urged close to a precipice.

"I found I could secure comfort and sufficient range from my easel in a studio, the dimensions of which were 9 feet long by 4-1/2 wide and 8 feet high at the ridge pole. In this small compartment I astonished how many things can be stowed. On two sides are hinged seats which can be brought into use when needed or dropped out of the way when not needed.

"Besides a hound, a constant companion, I attached a sheep to my caravan. At first I tied him on behind, but in time he required to be in front of the animals, however, was of short duration, for they became very jealous of one another."

BOY WITH MATCHES
PROBABLY STARTED FIRE.

Shed Was Burned on Huntley Property on Elizabeth Street.

At 12:30 o'clock Thursday noon an alarm from box 7, corner of Mt. Pleasant and Elizabeth streets, called out the fire department for a fire in a small shed at No. 66 Elizabeth street.
The shed was practically destroyed, as only the frame remains standing. Mrs.
Albert Huntley owns the shed, which is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Oscar D. Bjork. A boy playing with matches is supposed to have caused the fire.

Chemical company No. 2, Chemical company 3 and the truck and engine companies from the Central station responded to the call.

The stem of the single butt hydrant on Elizabeth street was broken, and this prevented the shutting off of the water. The 50-foot length of hose was left attached to the hydrant to prevent the water from running to waste, until a new hydrant could be installed.
The hydrant was of old style pattern.

HEBREW DRAMA
Creditably Given by Cast of Norwich and Colchester People.

The Colchester-Norwich Hebrew Dramatic club presented Broken Heart, a drama in four acts, before a large house in St. Mary's A. B. hall on Thursday evening. The production was acted out in the Hebrew tongue and the play was well received, as was evidenced from the hearty bursts of applause.

Those in the cast were as follows:
Mrs. B. Cohen, Mrs. Siro, Irving Bernstein, Mrs. Green, Mrs. Levine, Louis Cohen, Mr. Federman, Mr. Goldberg, Mrs. Lazeroff, D. Mintz, Mrs. M. Siro, Miss F. Stork. Drowsy orchestra turned the music. The club is planning to hold another play in the near future, the proceeds to be devoted to charity. Included in the audience were a number of Colchester people.

MASSONIC VISITATION.
Brainerd Lodge, F. and M. of New London, had an official visit this week from District Deputy A. M. Brown.
There were many visitors from neighboring lodges, especially Deep River, being represented by a dozen or more of its members. Eben Learned, tenor of the Masonic Temple quartette of Norwich, sang with the choir.

DECISION SATURDAY IN CHINAMEN'S CASES.

Willamantic Men Will Know Whether
They Are to Be Deported.

Hearing of the case against Lee Him, a Willamantic laundryman whom the United States authorities seek to deport on the ground that he is illegally within the country, has been concluded before United States Commissioner Richard P. Carroll at the federal building in Hartford. Commissioner Carroll reserved decision until Saturday. Lee Him had in format three weeks to look over the annals of his life and to prepare a statement of his life and how he came to be in the country.

In his argument District Attorney F. A. Scott, referred to the earlier statements of Lee Him to Inspector McCabe, that Lee Him's father was the Chinaman for whom he worked in Willamantic, that his mother died in China many years ago and that he had brothers and sisters. Thomas J. Kelly of Willamantic appeared for Lee Him.

FRECKLE-FACE

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots.
How to Remove Easily.

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the assurance of a reliable dealer that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of ethine-double strength—from any druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.
Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength ethine as this is the prescription sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

CLASH OVER SMALLPOX.
New London Health Officer and Prosecuting Attorney Disagree.

Because Prosecuting Attorney Daniel J. Cronin refused to prosecute Mrs. Roland Perkins of New London Wednesday morning on complaint of Health Officer J. T. Black for violating quarantine, Health Officer Black has installed two special officers to guard the woman's home at 321 Crystal avenue, New London. The officers were sworn in by Acting Mayor A. T. Miller Wednesday afternoon at the request of the health officer, who reported that Mrs. Perkins was defying his orders at quarantine.

In the course of his investigation, Health Officer Black found that Mrs.
Perkins had visited the Remmert home in Crystal avenue while victims of smallpox were there and he declared her vaccinated and quarantined.

Mrs. Perkins, according to the health officer, not only refused to be vaccinated, but was defiant and stated that she would visit the Remmert house as often as she pleased, and would go where she pleased.

Dr. Black had been taken to police court Thursday and the prosecuting attorney refused to present the woman on the ground that she had not been quarantined, while the health officer states that he issued to the woman a quarantine order.

The health officer then applied to Acting Mayor Miller for special officers, and Mrs. Perkins is being detained at her home. There are two officers on duty, one day and one night.

Dr. J. H. Townsend, secretary of the Connecticut state board of health, is coming to New London this (Friday) morning to look over the small-pox situation. Dr. Townsend comes at the request of Health Officer J. T.
Black, and will make a general survey of the smallpox situation in the city.

The visit is requested for consultation regarding a questionable case. A 2-1/2 year old child was at first suspected of having smallpox, according to symptoms. Now there is some question about the matter and Secretary Townsend's opinion will be sought while reviewing the situation.

He will also be shown the other smallpox victims, not that there is any doubt in the mind of the health officer and the physicians of the city, who are in accord that the disease is smallpox, but merely to have the state official verify their opinions and incidentally set at rest the suspicion entertained by some skeptical persons that the disease is not smallpox.
